A CANDIDATE WITHOUT AN ISSUE.

The conservative ammunition for use in the Gleichen campaign appears to have dwindled down to the rank of blank cartridges. The quality was so undeniably bad from the beginning that it was brought into use only when an open fight could be no longer evaded. Such as it was it has steadily degenerated in use into clap-trap which is resorted to only because the situation demands that something be said in behalf of Mr. Walsh, but admits of nothing being said that deserves a place in the serious discussion of provincial politics.

So far as can be judged from the Calgary Herald, the organ-in-chief to Mr. Walsh, the Conservative platform for the by-election appears to consist of the three remarkably important planks; first, that the combined salaries of the ministers of the province amount to more than the combined salaries of the Haultain government; second, that the Government will not "punish" the electors of Gleichen if they should see fit to elect Mr. Walsh; and third, that an Edmonton hotel keeper visiting the constituency of Gleichen recently advised one or more hotel keepers of that riding to oppose Mr. Walsh, said hotel keepers refusing to go back on the Conservative candidate.

Happy is the Government whose opponents can find after a whole year of administration nothing of more importance than this, and apparently nothing considered of importance enough to be put in the same class, for these appear to be the sole and only issues which are being raised in Gleichen. If the Rutherford Government holds power until it is rejected by the people of Alberta on any such childish twaddle, it will have a lease of office as long as its members are capable of the active work of life.

Where are the criticisms Mr. Walsh was supposed to be hatching in the privacy of his retirement during the early weeks of the campaign? What of the administration of the public affairs? What of the Government's policy? Has Mr. Walsh nothing to offer by way of amendment or criticism? Would he change either? If not, what business has he appearing as an avowed opponent of the Government? More important still, what would Mr. Walsh do? Has he nothing to propose, either to replace the Government's policy or to add thereto? If not, what reason could the electors of a constituency have for returning him to oppose the Government in the House?

These are the questions which the opposition candidate and his journalistic henchman are endeavoring to evade. But they are the real questions of this and every other by-election. That Mr. Walsh avoids them invalidates only Mr. Walsh—it does not affect the issues. On the face of things, these are the only issues on which a by-election can be fought with any pretence of reason, and the electors of Gleichen will be badly deluded if they permit their attention to be detracted from these real questions of importance by the trinity of trivial platitudes behind which Mr. Walsh endeavors to conceal the fact that he has no issue with the Government and therefore no business as a candidate in opposition to the Government.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The city police are collecting poll taxes these days and incidentally receiving also frequent and strenuous comments on the inequity of a system which imposes taxation without granting representation. Such remarks are not altogether new. They have been heard annually for several years more or less frequently, and both formerly and at present are directed not against the tax-paying but against the non-representation.

Poll-tax is collectable from all adult males in the city who are not assessed either for property or for income. The person liable for poll tax may, however, become a qualified voter by paying a "householders' tax" of $5 per annum. Provision was made for this at the last session of the legislature when an amendment to the charter was passed providing that "Every person liable to pay a poll tax and any of the persons hereinbefore excepted, upon satisfying the assessor on or before the 1st day of July in the then current year that for a period of at least three months prior to the 1st day of July in the then current year that he has bona fide resided in the city and during the said period has been and still is a bona fide occupant of premises therein as a tenant, lodger, employee or servant of the owner or person entitled to the possession of the premises, and upon producing the receipt of the secretary-treasurer

"showing the payment of the sum of $5 as 'householders' tax,' shall be entered by the assessor upon a list to be called the 'Householders' Tax List' and shall thereupon be exempt from the payment of a poll-tax for the then current year." Another clause provides for the names of such taxpayers being included in the voters' list.

The poll-tax payer contributes doubly to the city which allows him the privilege of citizenship. Whether he be a householder or a boarder he contributes indirectly taxes on the property he occupies and also pays a direct poll tax. If he be a householder the amount of his rent is calculated to include the taxes on the property; if he be a boarder the taxes on the property are a fixed charge in determining the price of his room rent. In the former case he pays the entire taxes on the property; in the latter case the taxes may be distributed among several roomers. Whether, therefore, he be a house-renter or a room-renter he pays indirectly a property tax and also directly a poll-tax. And in neither event is he given a voice in selecting the men who are to spend the money he provides for public uses. The fact of his paying this indirect property tax is not affected by the circumstance that his rent is paid ostensibly for the use of a building while the tax is levied only on the lot on which the building stands. It is only ostensibly so, for the occupant of the building is also the occupant of the lot. And the rent he pays is less a rent for the use of the building than for the use of the land whereon the building is located, for there are few men in Edmonton today who could not or would not provide themselves with habitations if they could secure the land on which to place them.

The provision of the householders' tax is an attempt to extend the franchise as far as reasonable to all tax payers in the city. The amount of the tax is not sufficient to debar those really desirous of entering into the privileges of citizenship; the comparatively small difference between it and the poll-tax being rather an encouragement than a hindrance. But the operation of the tax is not altogether equitable. It very frequently happens that the man who is assessed on income pays considerably less than the householders' tax, yet the householders' tax is paid only by those who are not assessable on income. Again, under this tax the citizen who is a householder in reality is taxed the same for the privilege of voting as the man who rents only a room, regardless of the fact that the former contributes indirectly to the city treasury the property taxes on an entire house and lot, while the latter may contribute only a small portion of such amount. It would be a not unreasonable arrangement to further amend the taxation system so as to remove the incongruity between the householders' tax, and to income and householders' tax, and to relieve the actual householder from the latter altogether, in consideration of the larger amount of indirect tax paid by him.

SOME ERRORS IN MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

"We Should Regard The City As A
Twenty Million Dollar Company
And Ourselves As the Directors."—Ex-Ald. J. R. Boyle

Speaking one night before the council when one of the large propositions of municipal administration was up for consideration, John R. Boyle, now passed from the aldermanic service to a higher position in the Legislature, said "We should regard the city as a twenty-million dollar company and ourselves as the directors."

No able words were ever spoken at the Edmonton council board.

The more the proposition is searched and analyzed the stronger it appears.

Considering the city owning its enormously valuable franchise as a gigantic stock company the three thousand rate payers as the stockholders, the city council as the directors and the men and women on the payroll, from city commissioners at their $2,500 salaries down to the telephone girls with their $40 a month, as the city employees, the whole proposition is simple and understandable.

The company which is the city operates some very large undertakings.

It builds, owns, operates and controls a telephone system, the franchise of which would probably bring $200,000 in the open market.

It builds, owns, operates and controls an electric power and light system which would bring a much greater sum if put up to auction—possibly $500,000. It builds, owns and operates a water works system, which is intended to serve the whole of the 15,000 people within the city limits and which capitalized on a basis of its possible earning capacity would easily be stock for half a million.

It builds, owns and operates a sewer system which from a sanitary point of view is invaluable and which as a matter of public safety must be a public enterprise but which nevertheless in private hands would be worth a handsome fortune.

It has the care and maintenance of the streets (used by 12,000 Edmonton people and half as many others of strangers within our gates).

It has by charter right in its own name a street car franchise which is worth, considering the possibilities, not less than a million.

It has all these as property interests and besides undertakes to look after the physical and moral welfare of the whole of the people dwelling on the R. M. waste.

It builds hospitals, city halls, lock ups, and public buildings of many kinds. It regulates the health laws, the licenses and the police force and for the common good protects individual interests against devastation by fire or flood. It exercises a careful eye on common companies, such as railways, express, insurance and financial agencies and regulates, encourages, or promotes any or all of them for the benefit of the public, as far as it is within the power by charter of a city corporation so to do.

In comparing the city to a stock company, however, there is one most important point that must be kept clearly in view.

Any private franchise company that has ever been known operates its franchises in order to make a profit for its stockholders from the users of its services.

The city operates its franchises on the principle that the service is for use, not for profit.

For instance, when Alderman Calhoun brought in a motion not so long ago to the effect that the $20,000 which the electric plant earned last year over and above the expenses should be returned to users of light, the secretary treasurer and as soon four of the aldermen contended that inasmuch as that $20,000 of the surplus had already been turned over to the electric light enterprise to be used as a sort of insurance reserve to be called out in case of a break down or other emergency. And as the other $20,000 had been applied to the purchase of a new boiler, that the spirit and principle on which the city was operating the electric enterprise was being followed and conserved.

Alderman Calhoun argued that this was not so. He said the light rates should be reduced $20,000 worth and another $20,000 worth of bonds floated to pay for the boiler and insurance reserve.

This departure from the principle of operation for use, to operation for profit constitutes practically the only error in principle that may be charged to the administration within the past year.

Whatever other errors there are in administration are chargeable to wrong practice or a wrong interpretation of the fundamental principles.

For instance it is evidently contemplated in the charter that the Commissioners should be, as stated in the commencement of this article, the employees of the city and the governing body—and that the city council should be the directors.

For instance, the charter provides by Title XXIV for local improvements, and article 4 explains the system on which by petition local improvements may be granted and gone on with. The language is simple enough: "Upon receipt of a petition signed by at least two-thirds of the persons registered as owners and representing at least one-half the value of the land," etc., etc. "The council may take all necessary proceedings to have the work carried out as a local improvement."

This proposition is plain enough. On the surface it would seem to contemplate that these improvements should be granted as a matter of course, when petitioned for, without discrimination and it would appear to be so within the powers of the council to relegate to the commissioners the duty of receiving these petitions, filing them in their order of receipt, and carrying them out in the same order, without regard to locality or cost, always reserving the common sense veto against the granting of long lines of sewer or water mains through unproductive territory, and reserving as to the petitioners vetoes the right of appeal to the council when they believe they were being improperly treated. This is the system that was evidently contemplated by the Charter and it is the system that must be adopted if the city council is ever to get its work done.

As the case is being handled now, each individual petition is placed before the council, after it has satisfied the exactions of the Commissioners, and many hours of the valuable time of eight aldermen and a mayor—the directors of a $20,000,000 company—are consumed in investigating the demands for "a six foot plank sidewalk on the east side of a street along from beautiful avenue to Black Stump Lane," or such similar requests. It is so clear as print that the time thus spent is valuable time that should be occupied by the consideration of matters of greater importance, and it is also manifest that if the present system is followed up until the city grows to the importance of Vancouver or Winnipeg, for instance, that the stage will eventually be reached when the council will have time for nothing else except the consideration and passing of petitions.

While the council is occupying its time in the consideration of these details there are propositions of far greater importance which never get before the council at all.

For instance, such a thing as a monthly statement of the business done or the conditions of any of the large municipal undertakings is something that has never been heard of at the council board.

Take the case of a private corporation such as Mackenzie and Mann, for instance, who own the electric franchises in Winnipeg, or the B. C. Electric, who own the electric franchise in Vancouver. Should the general manager of such a company fail to make proper statements from month to month, of the affairs of the company which he is managing, how long would he hold his position? And should he fail to keep his directors in perfect touch with the needs of betterments and expansions from time to time, or to keep them always advised as to how close the company's plant was to its capacity, or how soon, at the present rate of gain, the demand for service would overtake the capacity, would the directors of the company consider him a capable manager?

Take the case of the telephone enterprise, for instance. Does the superintendent make reports to anyone?

Why not?

If he does, where are the reports? If they are in the hands of the commissioners, why do not the councilmen get them?

It is said that there are now in the superintendent's office 135 applications for new telephone lines, that the telephone plant reached its maximum capacity over six months ago. There are now 350 telephones working on a magnet board which was never contemplated in the original plan. This 250 was reached before the city took over the plant. The necessity for a modern plant has therefore existed since the very day that the city acquired its plant. Were the ratepayers told so? The plant last year showed a surplus of $4,123.38. What the surplus for the ten months or any month of this year is, the public is not advised. What the surplus would be with a good telephone plant, the public cannot even guess.

Nevertheless, no systematic effort to report these conditions to the council has ever been made. Every ratepayer in the city is an interested stockholder; yet if any ratepayer wants to ask why the new telephone system is not operating, who will he go to? How will he find out? Where will he enquire? Yet if the ratepayers, who are the stockholders, want to put their finger on the spot, they find that there is no man is the city's employ in whom the control of this or any other franchise is vested. There is no responsible individual head. The commissioners, in failing to make regular systematic reports, have not cleared themselves and placed the onus on the council of this year or any other year.

The duty of the commissioners should be to place the public in possession of the facts of the case. The council, who are the directors, are the men elected to represent these ratepayers, who are the stockholders, and if placed in full possession of the facts, the people can be depended on to find competent directors.

THE EASTERN LAND COMPANY, LIMITED.

After a thorough investigation, selected the present site of Rosedale as the nearest, most accessible and best situated piece of property for subdividing in or adjacent to the City of Vancouver. The key map shows its location, with Fifth Avenue, defining its northern boundary. Adjoining Rosedale on the east are 51 1/2 acres belonging to the Vancouver and Yukon Railway; while on its western limits is found a continuation of City lots, Ninth Avenue being one of the best known thoroughfares of the City; it passes through popular Mount Pleasant, westward, with the General Hospital, Normal and High School on the south, through Fairview until the well-known Ideal Suburb at Point Grey is reached.

ROSEDALE IS FINELY SITUATED. The index map will show its close proximity to a very large number of the leading industries of the City. With the very rapid development of Vancouver, it is safe to predict that it will form an important section of Canada's western metropolis.

Synopsis of Canadian North-West.

Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-West Provinces, excepting 8 and 28, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person, the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for homestead entry or inspection must be made in person by the applicant at the office of the local Agent or Sub-Agent.

An application for entry or inspection made personally at any Sub-Agent's office may be wired to the local Agent by the Sub-Agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of "personation" the entry will be summarily cancelled and the applicant forfeit all priority of claim.

An applicant for inspection must be eligible for homestead entry, and only one application for inspection will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

A homestead where entry is in good standing, and not liable to cancellation, may, subject to the approval of Department, relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment.

Where an entry is summarily cancelled, or voluntarily abandoned, subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for inspection will be entitled to prior right of entry.

Applicants for inspection must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default, and if subsequently the statement is found to be incorrect in material particulars, the applicant will lose any prior right of re-entry, should the land become vacant, or if entry has been granted it may be summarily cancelled.

Notice—A settler is required to perform the conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader, resides on a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such homesteader the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements may be satisfied by residence upon such land.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500 x 1500 feet.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Bulyea will hold an official reception tomorrow night for the members of the cabinet and their wives, the deputy ministers and their wives and members of the civil service at Edmonton.

WITH THE CLUBS.

Mr. Howard Stutchbury, secretary of the newly organized Alberta Musical Festival, has already received communications from musicians in different parts of the province concerning this excellent departure in Alberta's musical development. The officers of the association are:—
Mr. Vernon Barford, president.
Mr. Howard Stutchbury, secretary.
Mr. Sidney W. Morris, treasurer.

The Ladies' Musical club met at the home of Miss Alice McDougall on Saturday afternoon. The day was devoted to Gounod, upon whom Mrs. Nicholls read a very interesting paper and a delightful programme of selections from this master was carried out. Miss Phillips, accompanied by Mr. Phillips, played two violin selections with her usual excellence. Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. Ironsides sang some of Gounod's lovely songs, but Mrs. Kelly, who was to have contributed to the programme, was unable to attend because of the accident to her husband on Saturday. At the tea hour Miss McDougall's hospitality was enjoyed in a pleasant little tea.

The Daughters of the Empire held their regular meeting on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ferris. Mrs. Slocock, regent, presided at what was the most largely attended meeting of this year. After the business routine was despatched Mrs. Ferris' guest, Lady Von Haast, delivered a most entertaining address upon Russia. The chapter at this meeting appointed the various committees to arrange finally for the amateur production of "The Private Secretary" at the Edmonton opera house shortly. It was also announced in connection with the Chapter's arrangements for bringing out domestics from England, that the passage money of these girls will now be received from persons desirous of employing them. The domestics will arrive here in May, 1907.

VICE-REGAL DRAWING ROOM.

The recent vice-regal Drawing Room at Ottawa is said to have been even more imposing than its predecessors, and fortunately less crowded. As the floor of the senate and the galleries filled with women wearing exquisite toilettes and the customary and most becoming feathers with the filmy tulle veil attached, for the greater part carrying immense bouquets or sheaves of flowers, the scene became an animated and picturesque one. Canadians prominent in the social and political world from all parts of the Dominion were present, as well as a number of visitors from England and the United States. A feature of the evening was the unusually large number of fair debutantes from neighboring cities and towns, who came to make their initial bow to the throne. After the Drawing Room receptions were held by the Speaker and Mrs. Dandurand in the Senate, and by the Speaker and Mrs. Sutherland, of the Commons.

Their Excellencies standing immediately before the throne with the brilliant military suite beside them, made a stately picture as the long line of those presented filed before them and passed on to vantage-points as on-lookers from the floor of the Senate or galleries.

Lord Grey wore the picturesque costume of an imperial privy councillor, with black coat richly braided with gold, white satin knee breeches, silk stockings and low shoes with diamond buckles.

Lady Grey, looking very stately and distinguished, was gowned in soft pink satin veiled in chiffon, bands of silver in conventional design, court train of Nile green heavily embroidered in gold and pale blue. She wore a tiara of diamonds and carried a magnificent bouquet of American Beauties.

Her Excellency's sister, Mrs. Benson, of England—Black panne velvet, with old rose points, court train of vieux rose edged with silver and roses, crown of diamonds in hair.

Lady Howick—Ivory satin, with Brussels points bertha rope of pearls and flowers in hair.

Mrs. Hanbury William's gown was of white satin veiled in net embroidered in gold, the skirt inset with Brussels lace, an exquisite fringe of gold balls on skirt and bodice with gold ornaments and bouquet of sunset roses.

Miss Gladys Hanbury Williams, a very graceful debutante, wore white silver tissue veiled softly in chiffon, and bodice trimmed with silver embroidery, and dainty silver wreath in hair. Lilies of the valley bouquet.

Of the gowns worn by ladies presented who have friends in Edmonton there were:—

Lady Laurier—Rich gown of white panne velvet with appliques of lace; diamonds.

Mrs. Frank Oliver—Handsome robe of dull gray Brussels net over chiffon and silk, bordered with a deep band of panne velvet, bodice trimmed with a bertha of cut steel; ornaments, diamonds; bouquet of crimson roses.

Lady Davies—Robe of Irish point lace over crepe de chene; ornaments, diamonds.

Miss Mary Davies (debutante)—Cream chiffon—satin-trimmed, with Chantilly lace; bouquet of cream roses and maiden hair fern.

Madame Dandurand—Parisian gown of cream duchess satin trimmed with rose point lace and gold embroidery.

Mrs. Clifford Sifton wore a magnificent costume of peach colored brocade satin, with a bertha of old Venetian point diamond and scarlet necklace and ornaments to match.

Madame Achille Frechette—Lovely gown of pink chiffon taffeta with garnitures of Honiton lace.

Mrs. Philip Roy (Edmonton)—French robe of pale blue net with sequins and pink chiffon roses applied upon the skirt and bodice over ruffles of accordion pleated blue chiffon, the whole mounted on pale blue chiffon and taffeta; shower bouquet of pale pink roses.

Mrs. J. Roberts-Allan—Paris gown of real lace over spangled chiffon; diamonds and pearls; American Beauties.

Miss Elinor Taylor (debutante)—Effectively gowned in glittering dew-drop chiffon trimmed with Honiton lace; carrying a bouquet of bush roses.

Miss Dunsuir, Victoria (debutante)—An Empire gown of pale blue chiffon inset with lace and trimmed with Paris embroidery; lovely bouquet of sweet peas.

Mrs. J. A. J. McKenna, Winnipeg—Beautiful Princess gown of mauve brocade with flouncings of Chantilly lace, insertions of hand-embroidered net in pastel shades; emerald and pearl ornaments; court veil and feathers.

Mrs. Dora Oliver—Empire gown of white ninon de soie with empire wreaths of white chiffon on the skirt, bertha in bolero effect of opal sequins and baroque pearls, sash of green ribbons.
